

I need your help.

Actually, a lot of people need your help. Beating cancer requires support from a medical team, healthcare workers, and especially friends and family like you. That's why I'm asking for your help.

I want to do my part to stop cancer, which is why I'm participating in the 2025 Tri for a Cure, benefiting Maine Cancer Foundation on Sunday, July 20th. Whatever you can give— from $50, $75, $100, or more— you'll be glad to know that 100% will go to help the Maine Cancer Foundation support dozens of Maine-based cancer programs working to prevent, detect, treat and cure cancer.

Maine Cancer Foundation leads a statewide endeavor to foster and grow the most promising and effective cancer-fighting efforts available to the people of Maine through a combination of grant-based financial support and coalition building. The fight against cancer requires help at every level and we need you.

Please join in the fight against cancer by making a contribution today. In return, I promise to put everything I've got into finishing strong! Thank you.
